Important information

Providing quality and protecting your rights

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding place to study. Australia's laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws are known as the Education Services for Overseas (ESOS) framework and they include the ESOS Act 2000 and the National Code. For more information go to: studyinaustralia.gov.au/en/Why-Study-in-Australia/Quality

Students with families

Before bringing your spouse or children to Australia, you will have to prove you can support them financially. The cost of supporting a family in Australia is very high. It is also very important to consider the adjustment your family will need to make in their new environment.

Visa issues

The spouse and dependant children under 18 years of age of an international student may be granted a dependant student visa. This visa allows your immediate family members to stay in Australia for the length of your study. You may need to have your children placed in a school before a visa will be granted.

Schooling of dependants

School-age children of international students must go to school while they are in Australia. You will need to enrol your children in a school before you leave your home country and usually you will have to pay the school fees one semester in advance. There are two education systems in Victoria – government and private. Schools charge fees in both systems. For more information go to the Victorian Department of Education's website: study.vic.gov.au or border.gov.au
